

1981 shows slight crime decrease in GC

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Increases in rapes, robberies and auto burglaries were cited in the annual report of the Granite City Police Department, which is to be presented to the city council next week.

Overall, major crimes decreased six-tenths of one percent as 2,544 major crimes were reported in the city during 1981, compared to 2,561 major crimes in 1980.

Homicides dropped from five in 1980 to three last year, but arrests for homicides also declined, from five in 1980 to two in 1981.

Deaths from auto accidents, however, increased 150 percent, climbing from two accidents (resulting in three deaths) in 1980 to five in 1981 (with five deaths). Injury accidents also were up 18 percent, from 333 in 1980 to 394 last year. The number of persons injured in those accidents climbed to 529 in 1981 from 453 in the previous calendar year.

Perhaps reflecting a decreased police force (dispatchers were replaced by uniformed officers when the city encountered financial problems this summer), arrests were down slightly last year from 1980 levels. A total of 4,920 persons were arrested in 1981 (3,277 for traffic offenses), compared to 5,058 arrests (3,409 for traffic) in 1980.

Arrests for major crimes, however, were up one percent in 1981 over the previous year. There were 886 arrests for serious crimes (homicide, rape, robbery, assault, burglary, auto burglary, larceny and auto theft) during 1981, compared to 875 the previous year. Total cases cleared, however, 1,947 last year, were down two percent from the 1,981 in 1980.

Following is a breakdown of the number of cases of major crimes reported during the two years.

GC sewer rate hike could gradually end debt

The Granite City Council will consider in a special meeting tomorrow a four-year Wastewater Treatment Plant plan which is expected to include industrial and residential sewage treatment rate hikes.

The plan will be an effort to gradually get back to the city's general fund $360,000 owed by the plant.

The wastewater plant — intended to be self-sufficient — has no place in its present budget to repay its debt to the city or to keep up with its own bond indebtedness payments.

This year, the plant is again headed toward a debt expected to amount to an additional $50,000 by May, according to Fourth Ward Alderman Warren Decatur, chairman of the pollution plant committee.

The current overspending is "really not to bad," when compared to the $206,000 borrowed at the beginning of the plant's budget year used to repay outstanding bills, Decatur said. The plant presently is estimated to be exceeding its budget by about $10,000 a month.

The plant's debt to the city roughly equals 64 percent the amount the city is projected to be in the red by December. (The city is, however, an additional $90,000 behind in fund upkeep for its self-insured workmen's compensation benefits, accumulated sick-leave pay and the police and fire funds.)

Besides trying to work a debt repayment plan, one of the aims of the special open caucus, at 7 p.m. at the Granite City Township Hall, will be to try to bring yearly expenditures in line with revenues.

Decatur had asked the council to wait until tomorrow's caucus before bringing back the last of the laid-off wastewater plant workers, but finally agreed with the council to reinstate the worker, due to a previous contract agreement.

Decatur said several options are open to the council to solve the plant's financial crisis. The pollution plant committee had considered raising only the rates of commercial and industrial plant users, but Decatur said the city should not put a "big burden" on industry at this time.

Residents probably would react in the same way, Decatur said. An increase of residential fees from $13 per quarter to $19 or $21 — necessary to instantly solve the plant's financial crisis — would be a "pretty terrible blow" to the average user, he added.

Therefore, the heart of the four-year plan is expected to incorporate both an increase in the residential and commercial rates that will have the combined and accumulative effect of erasing the debt over a four year span.

No sewage treatment rate hike or ordinances have yet been written, Decatur said.

Although the council did vote to bring back a laid-off wastewater plant employee last week to keep a total of 28 workers at the plant, as per its contract with the engineer's union, Decatur said he still considers the contract open to discussion.

"I would like to see Mr. (union representative) Young come back down and talk with us," Decatur said. "As far as I'm concerned we are still in negotiations."

OK license for 905 party store

A spokesman for the 905 Stores Division of Pet Inc., has informed the Granite City Council that the company expects 905 to open a liquor store in the community by April 1. The council immediately approved the company's request for a liquor license.

David Kay, president of the 905 Stores Division, in a letter to council, projected the annual volume of business in the city to be about $1.5 million.

"This operation will contribute to Granite City, calculated on a one percent city tax base, approximately $15,000 annually the first year of operation and increase at the rate of 10 percent annually," Kay predicted.

According to the president, new jobs will be created for area residents. "Initially, two managers and six clerks will be hired; hopefully, from Granite City," he said.

A store here would be the company's 52nd liquor store. The operation here would be a "full line Party Center — stocking approximately 4,000 items," Kay stated.

"It is our intention to provide a contributing business to the community — one that will complement its already fine image. It is the policy of this corporation, to closely adhere to all city, state and federal regulations in the conduct of its business."

The liquor stores are a division of Pet Inc., a subsidiary of IC Industries, an Illinois company.

GC agrees to end air pollution role

By GEORGE ANNE MCGEE
of the Press-Record

"Cries of despair, rather than practical recommendations," is what Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler said of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board's suggestion last week to eliminate what remains of the former Granite City Air Pollution Department. The former air pollution director, Paula Case, however, said she agrees with air board members — that the department she headed from 1978 until she was fired last summer — would be better off now if it were returned to the state.

During a meeting last week, R. William Rotter, president of the air board, impatient after a six-month delay in re-establishing air pollution control services and funding here, agreed with Alderman Casner Skubish's suggestion to suspend the remaining two employees of the air pollution control office.

Thus far, however, no official action on the proposal has been taken either by the air board or the city council and the two employees remain at work.

"The citizens of Granite City are the only ones that lost...when you look back at what happened," Rotter said at the last meeting of the air board.

In July, the city cited financial reasons for cutting the jobs of Mrs. Case (a full-time air pollution engineer), a full-time technician and three-fourths of the hour of a secretary. Alderman Skubish also cited personality differences as another possible reason for the dismissals at the air pollution control department.

"There would never be any savings," Skubish said of the council's earlier decision to cut the air pollution control department and, therefore, lose a $44,000 federal grant. "We're spending big money now to keep it going."

(Although the source of funding for this transition year has yet to be determined, if the department is totally disbanded the city would not have to spend the approximately $50,000 next budget year, as it has in the past.)

Rotter said city officials were told in a meeting prior to the air pollution dismissals that they would lose their federal grant, which was dependent upon the city spending at least as much each year as in the previous year. Rotter said the board also was given no choice on which employees were to be cut.

None of the aldermen on the air pollution control committee voted for the reductions, which sliced the staff by more than 60 percent. Mrs. Case said she had consulted with the federal EPA and had gotten informal approval for the city to keep its grant, if the air pollution department were to be reduced in the same proportion as other departments.

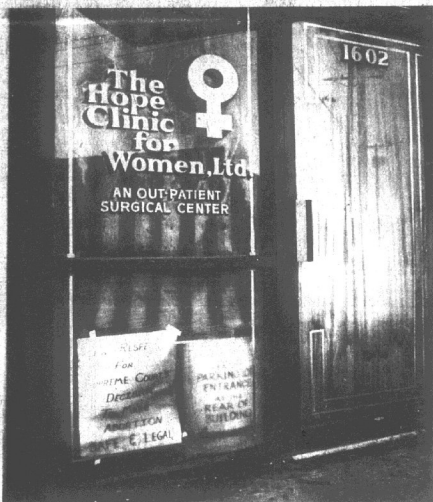

Rotter said that Mrs. Case is making "310,000 to 315,000 more" at her new job and if the layoffs were directed toward her, the citizens are the only ones being hurt. He said the work "just can't be done with the staff that we have left."

Now working in environmental studies for the Ethel Oil Corp. in Houston, Tex., Mrs. Case said that in her opinion, she does not see her dismissal rooted in a personality conflict between her and the council. She added that if a conflict did exist, it could be better traced to the economic and political climate.

"My job was to help industry," she said, pointing out that she works for industry now. "I do that here. I did that there."

She said she has stopped the state from closing one local industry. She commented, though, that the city's air pollution control department may have been perceived as a threat in hard economic times. Mrs. Case said that in Granite City, "11 of the 14 (aldermen) are tied to industry very tightly...they are going to say industry is number one."

EVIDENCE OF FIRE at the Hope Clinic for Women, 2050 Iowa St., which swept through one-story structure Saturday night, is seen in the front entrance door and windows covered with soot. Granite City firemen responded at 8:42 and were on the scene for more than 3 hours. The fire began in the reception area damaging furniture, walls, ceilings and contents. Police and fire investigators were to be at the scene today to sift through the debris for possible evidence of the cause. (Press-Record Photo by Pat Foley)

CHAIN REACTION.

Talk on OPEC control slated

The impact of OPEC, an organization of 13 oil-producing Middle Eastern countries, on the United States domestic energy policy will be discussed at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Wednesday from 10:30 a.m. to noon.

David Ault, professor of economics, will lead the discussion with a brief history of the power of the oil cartel. Ault, who advocates conservation and alternative energy sources, says the oil cartel has prevented uniform U.S. domestic energy policy.

In addition, he says the U.S. money markets are in a "precarious situation" because the United States has been financing the Third World's oil debt to OPEC.

The professor's talk, sponsored by the Metro-East Institute of Lifetime Learning, is part of the winter schedule of continuing education classes for senior citizens. The program is free and is scheduled in the Mississippi-Bilbo Room of the University Center.

The council voted 10-4 to reduce the department.

"The air pollution department has always been controversial," she said. "The department is not as essential for survival as eating and, during times when money is tight...until a terrible emergency," it will not be a top priority.

With the grant in question, Rotter said if the city does not have enough money coming in to afford certain services, they must cut, "even if it means air pollution."

City Engineer Monroe Brewer, however, said it is only a matter of time before the state sends a contract to the city agreeing to take over the air monitoring duties of the city, leaving the only remaining full-time employees to inspect local plants and respond to citizen complaints.

According to Brewer, the end result would be reduced federal funding to the city, but all bases would be covered, as far as services to the city are concerned. The bonus to the city would be to have one-third of salary of its city engineer salary paid by the air grant. Skubish said he doubts that Brewer will be able to give one-third of his time to air pollution control and, since he is paid at a much higher rate than was Mrs. Case, "we would pay higher money for part-time help."

Skubish said he will be against the modified contract with the state and will not recommend its approval. Rotter said he will take a "long hard look" at any proposal by the state, but is skeptical one will be forthcoming.

He said the air board has waited since July for a new grant contract, when they were first advised the reductions meant the city would no longer qualify for its $44,000 grant. He said the federal government has given the city and state several deadline extensions, since then, to come up with a new agreement. The final deadline was at the end of October and past that date, he said, neither the state nor federal government is under any legal obligation to help fund the city's program. "I don't think it is something the city can afford," Rotter said.

Although Rotter and Skubish have recommended the immediate suspension of the remaining air pollution control employees, to cease further expenditures to the city, Brewer said that if the city halts the air monitoring duties now, it will lose any hopes it has for the state reimbursing the city for air monitoring duties since October.

"I don't believe in quitting a program," Alderman Carl Kittel said, opposing the elimination of the department. Three other members of the board were not present to give their recommendations.

Fence halts fleeing auto

While operating radar equipment at 20th and Park at 10 p.m. Thursday, Granite City officers attempted to stop a speeding vehicle which driver allegedly accelerated when the squad car approached with its red lights and sirens activated.

The vehicle sped west on 20th, turned north onto Lee Avenue and then turned east on 21st Street at a high rate of speed, with the police car in pursuit.

When the driver tried to make a right turn onto Edwardsville Road, he lost control of the vehicle which struck a chain link fence belonging to Granite City Steel, on the east side of the highway and it came to a halt, police said.

Officers charged Kent D. Warren Jr., 17, of 2033 Harris St., Madison, with fleeing and attempting to elude police officers, speeding and being a minor in possession of alcohol. Three unopened bottles of beer were found on the vehicle's front floorboard and a tire bat was on the rear floor, police said.

A passenger in the car, David A. Cantlon, 18, of 2021 Harris St., Madison, was charged with being a minor in possession of alcohol and released on notice to appear for a hearing.

Warren was released on payment of $102 cash bond and posting his driver's license.

to replace a departing wastewater plant worker when the matter reached him last week as one of four grievances from plant workers.

Schuler said most of the grievances were simply settled, but until such time a contract is renegotiated with the plant workers, the city had no choice but to call the last man back. The mayor said the plant workers have given the city "excellent cooperation" recently.

Schuler said a decision not to rehire the employee would probably result in an unfavorable court ruling for the city or a loss to the city of benefits which workers surrendered in return for the

26-worker compromise contract

Alderman Jake Varadian of the Fifth Ward reminded the council the wastewater treatment plant budget is based on 24, not 26, employees. Alderman Michael Modrusic of the Seventh Ward said, "There needs to be some layoffs, and that's it."

Charge 3 in accidents involving GC squad car

Multiple charges have been filed against three individuals who were involved in two separate accidents occurring 10 minutes apart within one block of each other late Thursday night.

Only one person, a passenger, was reported injured in either of the crashes, one happening on Madison Avenue at Niedringhaus Avenue at 11:13 p.m. and the second on Madison Avenue at 21st Street at 11:23 p.m. Thursday.

Police arrived at the scene of the initial accident, involving three vehicles, to find one driver, Mark W. Copeland, 24, of 15th Second St., Madison, driving the center console of the car with his head in the front passenger seat, apparently unconscious.

An ambulance and emergency medical technicians were summoned. It was determined, however, that Copeland was not injured, but allegedly intoxicated. He declined medical attention.

Drivers of the other vehicles, John E. Heath, 2449 Cleveland Blvd., and Joseph J. Deitunz, 2154 State St., were stopped for a red traffic light in the northbound lanes of Madison Avenue when Copeland's car reportedly struck the rear of the Heath auto, forcing it into the Deitunz station wagon.

Eather H. Heath, 58, of the Cleveland address, a passenger in the Heath auto, was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Copeland was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol, failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident and driving with an expired driver's license.

An outstanding warrant against Copeland, held by Granite City police, also charged him with failure to appear in court on a 1981 charge.

In the second mishap 10 minutes later, a Granite City squad car was extensively damaged when struck broadside by an El Camino, operated by Aaron P. Graham, 27, of 132 Trocadero Lane, Mitchell.

The police car with its red lights rotating had been hit while driving while under the influence of alcohol and illegal transportation of alcohol.

Michael J. Stephens, 28, of 2539 Edwards St., a passenger in Graham's pickup, was charged with illegal possession of alcohol. Stephens also was arrested on two outstanding warrants, alleging failure to appear in court on charges of assault and criminal trespass to land.

Faces 3 charges

When he allegedly failed to dim his vehicle's headlights after being signaled by an officer at Nameoki Road and Madison Avenue, an officer operated by Rickey G. Greenman, 26, of 2333 Benton St., was halted at 24th Street and Madison Avenue last week.

Two open cans of beer allegedly were found on the floorboard of the vehicle and two beer cans were on the front seat, police alleged.

While removing the beer, officers allegedly found two plastic bags containing a substance which appeared to be cannabis. The contents of the bags weighed 44 grams. Greenman was charged in a felony information, issued Thursday by the Madison County state's attorney's office, with illegal possession of cannabis. He also was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol and failure to dim headlights.

During the arrest, Greenman allegedly became abusive, cursed the officers and yelled obscenities. He also kicked the rear door window of the squad car and refused to get out of the vehicle. He was taken to headquarters. He was forcibly removed.

While being booked, Greenman fell to the floor and began hitting his head on the floor, officers reported. Later, he began banging his head on the door of the holding cell and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment. He was returned to jail.

At 9:50 a.m. Thursday, Greenman was found in his cell bleeding from five small lacerations to his head. He was taken by ambulance to the hospital emergency room, where he reported having fallen in the cell, striking his head on the bars. Greenman was admitted to the hospital for surgery.

INTRUDER SEEN

An intruder was seen leaving the basement at the home of Colleen Bell, 2577 Washington Ave., by the occupant and her 8-year-old daughter last week. The daughter said she had seen a man by the basement door and the mother said she had been hearing noises in the basement, but though they were normal settling noises. When they checked the outside door, a man in his early 20s fled. He was described as 6 feet tall and having short brown hair, a beard and a mustache.

Cable TV rate hike hitting snag

South-Western Cable TV made a premature pitch for a basic cable rate hike to the Granite City Home Office and The Movie Channel, as does Collinsville.

South-Western Cable receives, as do most of the other municipalities, three percent of the revenues from the basic cable rate. David Olson, South-Western Cable's financial controller, told Caseyville board members expressing interest in receiving three percent of the pay TV revenues, that the company would not be willing to renegotiate that part of the contract.

The Maryville Board of Trustees Wednesday voiced their criticism of South-Western and postponed approval of the requested increase. The board in- stead, but Mayor Paul Schuler and the city's finance committee already had requested another meeting with South-Western before taking a council vote.

Mrs. Hildebrand said that she had not understood the request for an additional meeting that was made at a preliminary meeting with four cable representatives and city officials.

Caseyville's board of trustees was the first municipality to outright reject the rate hike request. The request there is expected to go before a five-person arbitration panel.

At last Tuesday's city council meeting, the debate continued over the quality of the reception coming into the homes in the area. According to South-Western, no major reception problems have occurred since August, but several aldermen disagreed.

Third Ward Alderman Paul Fisk once again questioned the quality of the signal reception during recent sub-zero weather and contended that weather conditions have been a constant source of poor reception.

A South-Western technician said the problems that occurred during the football playoff game were exaggerated, but the intermittent nature of the problem helped it elude detection. The spokesman contended, however, that problems stemming from high winds have been resolved.

Fisk and the technician, however, did not resolve their own views on the source of various signal problems, which the aldermen believe are experienced by a large number of cable subscribers, while the cable representative suggested connections at individual homes might be the problem.

"Obviously, problems are here that go far beyond just saying we're going to get to it," said Alderman Paul Bowler of the Seventh Ward.

Members also objected to the repetition of certain movies on both pay TV channels that South-Western has selected to offer their customers.

Alderman Warren Deatour of the Fourth Ward repeated Mrs. Hildebrand's concern about South-Western's discontinuation of pay TV discount rates for senior citizens.

Mrs. Hildebrand stated several reasons for the requested approximately 38 percent raise in the rate, including elimination of the discount.

Mrs. Hildebrand said the pay TV channels had cooperated with her company in offering a discount to seniors, but had stopped the discount because, "we should not be discriminating."

She said that when the company sent out letters to the seniors about the rate hike, they expected many to disconnect, but few did.

"We think they recognized it was discriminatory," she said, and she said of offering the seniors a discount, while excluding other sectors of the community.

Alderman Paul Schuler earlier requested that when South-Western representatives return, they present a letter to the city explaining why the city is limited to collecting three percent of the cable revenues and give a date when the city could expect a local access channel to be in operation.

Aldermen voted to refer the rate hike request back to the finance committee.

News notes

An open forum to discuss proposals to add Friday classes and switch from a quarter to a semester system at SIUE will be held tomorrow at 11:30 a.m. in Gosnell Lounge of the University Center. Sponsors of the campus-based Illinois Public Interest Research Group, the forum is open to students, faculty and staff.

Bands will play during a voter registration drive on Friday and Thursday at the SIUE University Center.

The SIUE basic bus fare may rise from the present 60 cents to 75 cents April 1, with 16 of the 137 routes being ended at that time to cut costs. Commissioner Roy May is opposing a plan to let ATE Management and Service Co. of Cincinnati operate the local bus system, instead favoring a St. Louis firm. But a three-year pact with ATE is expected to be approved Friday

Linkage program involves business education, labor

CETA-eligible youth has received the go-ahead signal for a second year of operation.

The locally-administered project, which was ranked first in the nation last year, has been refunded with a special governor's grant, amounting to $60,441.

In announcing the grant this week, C.A. "Bud" McMillan Jr., CYS executive director, said the new program will seek to broaden and expand its basic concept while providing a means of disseminating in-formation to other school districts interested in establishing similar programs.

Area business firms, labor organizations and school administrators cooperate in creating the basic foundation for the "Linkages" program, which this year has added two new components to its overall plan.

The new aspects are geared to EMH (educable mentally handicapped) high school students in the Granite City School District and involvement of the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission (EOC).

The Madison County Regional Superintendent of Schools and CYS are jointly sponsoring the program, with the cooperation of the Madison County Office of Manpower Development, the Granite City School District and EOC.

The "Linkages" concept tests and promotes the feasibility of developing positive attitudes toward work and education, involving participants who previously have not been able to adjust to a typical educational setting.

McMillan explained.

And, the concept apparently works. CETA-eligible youths, enrolled in the CYS Alternative School here, increased their average reading ability 1.4 years during their average math scores by 1.2 years during the 1980-81 program, the records show.

Shirley Blasingame, Linkages project director, who has been cited at the national and state levels as the person largely responsible for the program's success, is directing the program again this year.

Mrs. Blasingame said pupil attendance in the 1980-81 program averaged 94 percent and resulted in two-thirds of the student participants being hired either full-time or part-time following their training period.

The remaining third elected to return to school on a part-time or full-time basis when the program concluded. Completing school was a major goal of the program, it was noted.

Thursday, the first in-service workshop was conducted at the Correlated Youth Services Building, 1254 Niedringhaus Ave., for representatives of the Edwardsville, Collinsville, East Alton-Wood River, Alton, Highland and Granite City school districts.

Guest speaker at the morning session was Granite City Postmaster Jack Wilkins. Addressing the representatives in the afternoon was Jack Joubert, director of the Career Guidance Center at Lewis and Clark Community College.

Mrs. Blasingame, who conducted the workshop, said two periods were set aside for participating educators to take part in the "Linkages" project. The next workshop will involve tours of local industry when the educators will view the role of the employers serving as instructors.

Mrs. Blasingame advised.

This year's pilot program includes 25 to 30 youths, between the ages of 16 and 19, including 17 handicapped youths. The EMH youths will take part in a job readiness program by participating in work experience and observation at various school campus work sites, where their vocational interests will be assessed throughout an 18-week period, the director said.

The Linkages Education-Employment Exploration Program (LEEP) provides education and private sector exposure in an alternative education school setting.

During the 18-week intense job seeking skills program, the CETA-eligible participants spend time at various area business firms and hear from employers directly on what job skills are needed.

Successful participation will enable the students to receive credit toward their high school diploma or General Educational Development (GED) certificate.

Most of those involved view the world of employment with little enthusiasm for a variety of reasons. Mrs. Blasingame said.

Few have had little success in a regular school program and need help in changing their attitude and becoming familiar with the jobs available. Others are frightened.

Job development at an early stage and learning what industry and business have to offer are among the program benefits, according to area AFL-CIO labor leaders who are involved in Linkages.

Discovering their job interest, preparing for job interviews and learning how they can enter apprenticeship programs, if interested, also are benefits made available to the students.

The program has the support and assistance of the Linkages in Progress Advisory Council, which consists of representatives from high schools, vocational programs, CETA programs, area employers, youth service organizations and community interest groups.

The council serves as a core group for information and resource sharing, problem exploration and mutual problem-solving. Mrs. Blasingame explained.

She stressed the overall goal of the program is to promote linkages among education, training and employment systems for the ultimate benefit of area youth and the economic health of the community.

The Linkages program could not succeed, however, without the wholehearted cooperation we are receiving from the business community," the director commented.

Eighty local business firms are taking part in this year's program, including:

The Granite City Press-Record, Granite City Steel, Madison County Federal Savings and Loan, Archer Daniel Midland, City of Granite City, O'Brien Tires and Battery, R. M. Mama Lil Crecelius, a 67-year-old psychic, will be featured in nightclub performances at the grand opening of Nash-Ville, a new lounge at 3675 Namecki Road (formerly the Branding Iron).

She will perform Thursday, Jan. 28, and again on Thursday, Feb. 4. Performances will be between 7 and 9:30 p.m. each night. Also on the program will be the Shades of Blue band, featuring Joe Wilhold. The

Annual student dance concert set at SIUE

The department of theater and dance at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will present its first major event of the new year, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Performances for the annual student dance concert, "Opus '82," are scheduled at 8:15 p.m. on the Communications Building theater. Tickets are $4 for adults, $3 for senior citizens and $2 for children. SIUE personnel will be admitted for $2.50.

Begun several years ago, the event serves to showcase the choreographic and performing skills of advanced students of dance.

"Over the years, it has become an extremely well-thought-of dance event in the Greater St. Louis area," Lynn Kluth, professor of theater and dance, said.

This year's concert features not only the work of dance students on the Edwardsville campus, but also those active in dance on the Carbondale campus. Kluth said this year's concert will be "an evening of daring and innovation, rich in imagination and thought."

Tickets may be reserved by telephoning 1-692-2773 or may be purchased at the door on evenings of performance. Parking behind the building is free.

Cashier foils armed robber

An uncooperative service station cashier kept a would-be armed robber from taking money from Sonic Service, 1817 Madison Ave., last week.

The cashier, Sharon King, said the man, who was in his 20s, stepped from the south side of the building in front of the cashier's window and pointed a small black automatic-loading pistol at her.

She picked up the telephone and called her boss, who called police. The armed man fled on foot empty-handed. Police cars searched the downtown area, but were unable to find anyone matching the

Steelers win at Wentzville

WENTZVILLE — The Granite City North wrestling team came away with the team championship Saturday at the annual Wentzville Invitational Wrestling Tournament over a field of seven Missouri high schools.

The Steelers finished with 328 points, easily outdistancing second place Hazelwood West which finished with 284 points. Other final team scores were Wentzville 231½, Parkway North 215, Normandy 209½, Jefferson City 154, Hancock 100 and Beaumont 60.

"We thought we could come in here and win the tournament," said North head coach Walt Whitaker. "We knew that Hazelwood (West) and Wentzville would be tough, though. And they were."

Granite City North had place-winners at every weight class except two. Individual champions included Colin Davis at 98 pounds, Steve Smith at 119 and Rod Unger at 132. Bob Patton finished second at 167 pounds. Third place finishers were Greg Nemeth at 105 pounds and Rick Brown at 138. Fourth place finishers were Dale Bowles at 112 pounds and Monte Kessler at 145 pounds.

The Wentzville Tournament has taken the place of the Quincy Tournament on the Steelers' schedule. How does the Missouri field stack up against the field at Quincy. "Very well," said Whitaker. "I'd say the teams at Wentzville are just as good if not better than the ones we used to see up at Quincy. The only exception might be East Moline which is always in the Quincy meet. They're always tough."

In other wrestling action Saturday, Granite City South finished third in a four-team double-dual meet at Hazelwood Central.

Hazelwood Central finished first with 200 points followed by Roxana with 192, South with 131 and Lindbergh with 62.

In dual results, Hazelwood Central blasted South 42-19 and Roxana beat the Warriors 35-16. South came back in the third dual meet to beat Lindbergh 48-21. The Warriors now have a dual meet record of 12-5.

Against Hazelwood Central, South winners included Sam Givens at 132 pounds, Ken Dowdy at 167, Doug Graham at 185 and Doug Graham in the heavyweight division.

Against Roxana, the Warrior winners were Rob Steiner at 105, Darrin Hasty, Jeff Hoese, Ken Dowdy at 167, Brown at 185 and Graham at heavyweight.

DuQuoin wins title

SPARTA — The DuQuoin Indians ran all over the Sparta Bulldogs here Saturday night and won the championship of the Sparta Mid-Winter Basketball Classic, 73-53.

The Indians, who raised their record to 13-4, got an outstanding performance from junior forward Darrell Anders. The 6-6 jumping jack pumped in 22 points and grabbed 12 rebounds. He took game-high honors in both categories.

Earlier this season, DuQuoin edged Sparta by only three points in a regular season Southwestern Egyptian Conference contest at Sparta.

DuQuoin, which owns a victory over 12th-ranked Pinckneyville (Class 1A) this season, broke open a close game with a scoring outburst in the second quarter. With the score tied 17-17 at the end of the first period, the Indians outscored the Bulldogs 19-9 to take a 10-point lead into the locker room at halftime.

Bryan Ingram, a 6-4 senior center, scored 19 points for DuQuoin. Danny Gilliams, a 5-11 junior guard scored 10 points.

Sparta was led in scoring by Winston Henry's 16 points.

The championship was DuQuoin's third at Sparta in the 18 years of the tournament. The Indians also won in 1967 and 1974. The overall tournament championship winner is Venice with four titles. The Red Devils have not competed at Sparta since 1960 when they won their fourth title. Other Red Devil crowns came in 1979, 1976 and 1975.

Warriors coast to easy victory over Triad, 62-49

By TERESA GULL of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Don Deterding can survive. Deterding, head coach for Granite City South, was happy for more reasons than one that his team beat Triad 62-48 Saturday night.

For not only did the win give South its fourth victory of the season, but it saved Deterding a lot of teasing. Deterding has two daughters who attend Triad High School. One of his daughters even keeps score for the basketball team.

Deterding knew if South would have lost the game, his daughters would have rubbed it in. But Deterding had nothing to worry about. With South leading the entire ball game and having as much as a 22 point lead, Triad never presented a serious threat. After South had dominated the first half and built up a 15 point half time lead, Deterding felt confident they could win.

Still, South had its problems. "Every ball game is something," Deterding said. "Tonight we couldn't make a lay up. Every time we walked to the free throw line it was pathetic. The kids have a mental block."

South's pressing defense caused Triad numerous problems, forcing 17 turnovers in just the first half. Many of the turnovers turned into fast breaks for South but the lay ups wouldn't drop through the hoop.

"If we could have just made our lay ups the first half we could have broken their backs and spirit," Deterding said. "I think they only got about four good shots the first half."

Su Weider, Triad head coach, agreed Triad played poorly the first half. "That first half, we might as well not even been out there," Weider said.

"Their defense hurt us. I was afraid of that. We would catch the ball and wait for the defense to get on us," Weider said. "They (South) do a good job of it (defense). We just didn't handle it well."

Triad had a hard time holding onto the ball the first half. Whenever a South player would start playing them tight, they would fumble the ball away or force a pass. The second half, however, they handled South's defense better, playing them even the third quarter and outscoring them by four points the fourth quarter.

"I thought we played an exceptional third quarter," Weider said. "If we would have played that way the whole game as we did in the third quarter, we would have been OK."

In the third quarter, Triad started penetrating the lane and getting the easy lay up. Steve Brown, especially caused South problems underneath the basket, scoring eight of his 10 points in the second half.

Still, Triad was never able to get close enough in the second half to pose a serious threat. The nearest South let Triad get to the lead was nine points with 4:53 left in the game.

Kenny McManus, senior guard, ignited South's offense with 18 points. He was especially effective driving to the basket. Four other players, Joe Schneke, Pat Linhart, Jim Petty and Tom Miller, each scored 10 points.

Triad was led by Mark Wade with 20 points. Steve Brown and Mike Rogier each added 10 points.

Free throws presented a problem for both teams. South made only 10 out of 24 for 42 percent. Triad led even more problems, making just seven out of 21 for 33 percent.

Although Deterding was glad to get the win, he wished the team could have won a few of their games earlier in the season. "It's really a shame we've lost 11 games because we should have been 500 or better," Deterding said. But he noted the losses did come against some tough competition.

"I really felt our competition was better and that would help us tonight," Deterding said.

North rips Lebanon, salvages 7th at Sparta

SPARTA — The Granite City North basketball team salvaged seventh place here Saturday night at the Sparta Mid-Winter Basketball Classic with a resounding 71-39 trouncing of hapless Lebanon.

Saturday night's victory came on the heels of a disappointing overtime loss to Triad Thursday in the consolation bracket. North had gone into the tournament as a co-favorite for the championship along with DuQuoin. But a double-overtime setback to Red Bud in the opening round sent the Steelers into the losers' bracket games.

DuQuoin went on the win the tournament championship Saturday night (see related story).

Against Lebanon Saturday, the Steelers broke open a close game in the second quarter. North held only a five-point lead at the end of the first quarter, but outscored the Greyhounds 23-10 in the second period to take a huge lead into the locker room at the halftime intermission.

Lebanon's Greyhounds tried to mount a comeback in the second half, but the lead the Steelers had built up was simply too much. North coasted to its eighth victory of the season.

The Steelers were led in scoring by senior guard Carl Luehmann who pumped in 17 points. Kendall Whittington added 11 points and 6-7 center Terry Martin scored 10 points for the 8-10 Steelers.

In that second half, North outscored the Greyhounds 14-12 in the third quarter and 8-8 in the fourth quarter when Steeler head coach Bill Ohlendorf cleared the bench.

Two North players barely missed breaking into double figures in the scoring column. Harold Rody and Brad Watson each scored nine points. Steve Trittschuck scored six points. Mike Sullivan scored four, Daren DePew added three and Rick Takmajian scored two points for the Steelers.

In other prep action around the area, Collinsville halted a three-game losing streak Saturday night with a narrow 72-70 victory over the Terriers at Carbondale. Friday night, Mount Vernon got a basket at the final buzzer to edge the Hawks 71-70.

In other action at Sparta Saturday, Marissa claimed the third place trophy with a 61-58 victory over arch-rival Red Bud. Waterloo Senior High won the consolation championship with a 64-47 victory over Triad; in non-conference regular season action, Alton Senior beat

Skaters blow 3-0 lead, fall to Hazelwood West

By ROGER KRAMER for the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — It would have been easier for Granite City South's hockey team to make the Mid-States High School Club Hockey League playoffs for the first time in its four years in the league if they would have defeated Hazelwood East Saturday.

South had a 3-0 lead during the second period, but the Spartans came back to defeat the Warriors 5-3 at Wilson Park.

In order to make the league playoffs, a team must finish in the top three places in its division or earn a wildcard spot by having one of the eight best records in the league. South, in any likelihood, will have to be a wildcard team to make the playoffs because of the loss.

Before Saturday's game, South was a game behind both Hazelwood East and McCluer North in the race for second place in the division. St. Charles is close to clinching first place. A victory would have put South and East in a third place tie and might have created a three-way tie for second place.

South, 6-10-1 for the season, may still have a chance at an automatic playoff berth if it can beat two of its remaining division foes. The Warriors play St.

Charles today at 7 p.m. at the North County rink, McCluer North at 9:15 p.m. Friday at the Dellwood rink, and McCluer High Feb. 1 at North County. South finishes the season with South Division school Chaminade Feb. 4.

Warriors coach Harold Dix believes South can earn at least a wildcard berth. "We have about a 50-50 chance of getting in the playoffs," Dix said. "We still have four games left, and if we win at least two of our division games, we might be able to go as one of the top three teams."

"I think this team can come back up from this loss. They want it pretty bad with two weeks left in the season," Dix said.

In the first period and half of the second period, South rolled away from the Spartans, but in the last half of the second period, and the third period, Hazelwood East ran over the Warriors.

South's Rick Ricane scored the only goal of the first period at 7:33 from a pass from Kevin Sherlock. The Warriors struck early in the second period. Tim Phelps scored took a deflection of the puck of Ray Romine and scored for South just 49 seconds into the period. At 3:12, Ron Snelson took a pass from Jeff Janzen and scored South's final goal.

The Spartans scored two goals in the final five minutes of the second period, and the momentum of the game switched to Hazelwood East.

Greg Anzalone took Joe Bratchie's pass and scored at 10:40. The Spartan's second goal came when Dan Davis scored at 12:35. Larry Hamilton was credited with the assist.

"Those two goals there were the turning point of the game," Dix said. "After that, we just stood there, and they wanted the game more than we did."

Bratchie scored an unassisted goal that tied the game at 8:47 in the third period. Anzalone scored the go-ahead goal off a pass from Bratchie at 11:47. Davis scored the insurance goal with just 39 seconds to go in the game.

"I think we could have been too relaxed after we got that 3-0 lead. We got a little less aggressive and didn't go after the puck enough," Dix said.

Hazelwood East assistant coach Joe McClary thought his team didn't play like a team early in the game. "Our kids tried to play too individually in the first period," McClary said. "We picked up in the second period, and we played much better.

"Those last two goals in the second period got us going. This was a big game for us, and we had to get something to get us going," McClary said.

O. What is likely to be the effect of lowered interest rates on money market funds and money market certificates?

A. The best way to begin to answer your question is to explain the difference between a money market fund and a money market certificate. Money market funds are fluctuating, uninsured investment instruments. Money market certificates are guaranteed and insured, offered by your local bank. If the performance of money market funds and money market certificates for the year 1980 were plotted indicating percentage of interest rate paid over each month, it would illustrate that money market certificates are guaranteed and inflexible as to yield, wherein money market funds tend to rise or plummet with general interest rates. Since those interest rates are falling, it is quite likely yields on money market funds will do likewise.

New soccer series is planned for Chicago

Special to the Press-Record

NEW YORK — In what may prove to be an historic event in the growth of soccer in the United States, the U.S. Soccer Federation and the Miller Brewing Company announced today that four U.S. national cup championships will be contested during the Memorial Day weekend (May 29-31) in Chicago. The staging of the 1982 USSF National Challenge Cup competitions, the Open Amateur Women's Open and Women's Over-30, will mark the first time more than one national championship will be played at a central location.

The four events, each among the most prestigious club competitions for players 19 years of age and older, will wind down in a dramatic conclusion when the final four teams in each championship go head-to-head in national semifinal and final play. The innovative format will go a long way toward helping the Senior Cup championships evolve into a sports and media event of national magnitude.

The decision to play the national cups at a single site was made by the USSF Senior Cups Committee, in consultation with Lowenbrau, the national and regional sponsor of the Cup competitions. Peter Van Borkulo, chairman of the Senior Cups Committee, explains some of the reasons for the new format. "We want to make the national cups a real soccer happening. Playing the cups together in a media center like Chicago will give the competitions greater exposure and better promote the sport. With the vital support of the Miller Brewing Company, the USSF-Lowenbrau National Cups have the potential to be among the finest soccer competitions in the country."

Four regional champions in the Open Amateur Women's Open and Women's Over-30 ranks will compete in semifinal action beginning May 29. The semifinal winners will play for national honors the following day. The final schedule of matches and the playing site for the events will be announced at a later date.

The regional semifinals and finals will also be centralized. They will be conducted in a manner similar to the national finals, with state champions within each region competing in the four competitions to determine which teams will emerge as the region's representatives in Chicago. The Senior Cups Committee has stipulated that all regional cups must be completed by May 2. Lowenbrau will also provide sponsorship for the regional events.

In announcing the new cup format, Lowenbrau Brand Manager Jerry Schmutte said: "There's every indication that club soccer is booming with the efforts of the United States Soccer Federation and the Lowenbrau brand. We know that we're taking a giant step for the betterment of the sport. Lowenbrau is pleased to be associated with such a fine organization as the United States Soccer Federation and to help facilitate the growth of the sport in the U.S."

The National Open Cup has been played annually since 1914 (except 1940). Each of the nearly 2,500 USSF-affiliated professional and amateur clubs are eligible to enter the competition. In the past, the semifinals and finals of the Open Cup have been played on separate weekends, with the USSF's four geographic regions alternating as host teams each year. The National Amateur Cup has been played every year since 1924. It has followed the same kind of format as the Open Cup, with all USSF-affiliated senior amateur teams eligible to compete in a rigorous series of state, regional and national eliminations.

The National Women's Open Cup, a competition open to all USSF-affiliated women's teams, and the National Women's Over-30 Cup, a competition restricted to women's teams with players 30 years of age and older, were first staged in 1980. Both the 1980 and 1981 national semifinals and finals were held in conjunction with the USSF Annual General Meeting.

The 1981 Open Cup final, captured for a record-equaling fifth time by the Maccabee Soccer Club of Los Angeles, was played in San Pedro, Calif., while the Busch Soccer Club of St. Louis won its second straight Amateur Cup title by defeating F. C. Bayern in Philadelphia. The hometown F. C. Rambla (Open) and the Blue Angels (Over-30) won the national women's titles last year in Seattle.

ZARR REBOUNDS. Madison's Mark Zarr (52) fights for a rebound with two players from St. Louis McKinley Friday night during the Trojans' victory at home, 78-52. Zarr finished the game with seven points and the Trojans raised their record to 12-4 on the season.

Balanced scoring sends Madison past McKinley

By ROGER KRAMER
for the Press-Record
MADISON — Madison basketball coach Larry Graham expected McKinley to be an indicator of how good the Trojans are this season. Last season, McKinley handed the Trojans their first loss of the season.

This season, McKinley is a very inexperienced team, and Madison rolled over the St. Louis school 78-52 here Friday.

Despite the ease in which the Trojans won, Graham was upset. He locked the locker room door so he could discuss the game with his players and declined to talk to reporters about the game.

Assistant coach David Hodges did all the talking for the Trojans.

"It was a sloppy game," Hodges said. "I thought we looked pretty decent in the first half, but when we saw that they were not really threat, we saw which team would make the most turnovers. It was an error filled game."

Madison, 12-4 on the season, quickly built up a large lead over McKinley. The Public High League team, 7-4 this season, never came close.

Madison's Carvel Claggett scored 11 of his game high 16 points in the first quarter, and the Trojans led 23-15 after eight minutes.

The Trojans built up a 44-25 halftime lead and led by 27 after three quarters.

For McKinley, this game was just one step of a continuing learning process this season. McKinley coach Ken Franklin said his team will learn from games such as this.

"We have about seven or eight freshmen and sophomores on this team, and they're getting a lot of learning experience this year. We play Lincoln, Lovejoy and Madison because we want to play as many as the top teams in the area as we can."

For many of McKinley's players, this is a baptism by fire because of the difference between Illinois and Missouri high school basketball.

"The big difference is in the age when kids start organized basketball. In Illinois, some kids get started when they're in fifth grade, but over here, they don't get into organized ball until their freshman year in high school."

"When the kids do play basketball at the recreation center, they just throw a basketball out there and let them play sandlot basketball. We have to volunteer our time to get some organized basketball for younger kids," Franklin said.

Despite the mistakes McKinley made, Franklin was happy with his team's execution at times.

"I feel pretty good about the way we looked at times. We really executed well, considering everything. Sometimes, our kids aren't mentally ready for a game. As the game went on, our kids starting standing on defense, and you could see that," Franklin said.

McKinley freely substituted players throughout the game, and no McKinley player scored in double figures.

Besides Claggett, three other Trojans scored in double figures. Shannon Manson scored 13 points, and Billy Papa and Avery Crawford both scored 11 points.

Madison made 25 of 58 field goal attempts for 43 percent while McKinley made 18 of 45 shots for 33 percent.

The Trojans shot from the free throw line 42 times in the game because of McKinley's 29 fouls. The Trojans made 29 of those for 66 percent. "That's better than what we've been doing," Hodges said.

"I thought we played like we expected us to play in the first half. We were running the ball pretty well and getting our shots. I think we're getting a little better than what we were earlier in the year," Hodges said.

"I thought we did exactly what we wanted and led by 19 at halftime, but we started standing around in the second half. I do think if it was a close game, we would have played as hard the second half as we did the first half."

Alton dumps GC South

By TERESA GULL

for the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Taking gambles sometimes puts you on the short end. Granite City South found out the hard way Friday night.

Trailing by four points with 6:45 left in the fourth quarter, South ended up losing to Alton by 19 points, 83-64. All because of a gamble.

With a little over five minutes left in the game, Alton had built its lead back to nine points. Having a comfortable lead, they decided to change to their control or delay offense.

South had no choice but to start taking chances on defense and play a tight full court press. They needed the ball.

Their gamble backfired, however, and Alton beat the press, scored easy lay-ups, made their free throws and built up their lead.

"That score is not indicative of how we played," Don Deterding, South head coach said. "We had to go after them and score."

Deterding had no qualms about the way South played. When the opposing team shoots 61 percent and has a balanced scoring attack, it's difficult to stop their offensive thrust. Even when the defense tries to stop them is the tenacious, aggressive defense of South.

When you're behind, no matter how good you play defense, it's not going to help if you can't score any points," Deterding said.

It wasn't that South didn't have any opportunities to score. South had 16 more field goal attempts than Alton. The problem was one which has been following South around all season — their shots wouldn't fall through the hoop.

"Offensively, they moved the basketball. They got good shots," Deterding said. "It's frustrating to me and it has got to be frustrating to them not putting the ball into the hoop."

"We step up to the free throw line it's just like a turnover."

South converted on only eight out of 19 free throws for 42 percent. They shot 41 percent from the field, making 28 out of 69 attempts.

Alton, on the other hand, had no problems offensively. Shooting 61 percent from the field and 62 percent from the line, Alton had an effective inside-outside scoring attack.

"Offensively, I was real pleased. We've struggled to score 50 to 60 points at times," Stan McAfoos, Alton head coach said. "The shots we took tonight were high percentage shots. We really didn't have to force any."

"I was real pleased we handled the pressure and the way we moved the ball," McAfoos said.

What was even more pleasing to McAfoos were their balanced scoring attack. Rick Taylor, a 6'3" junior center, led all scorers with 25 points. Brad Collier, a 6'1" sophomore forward, added 18 points with Ron Twichell, 5'10" senior point guard, scoring 17 points. The only thing that didn't please McAfoos was their sporadic play. At half-time, they had a 12 point lead.

By the end of the third quarter, South had cut that lead to six points.

"I get upset because we don't show a lot of consistency and we go in streaks and spells," McAfoos said.

Deterding can relate to that problem. South shot poorly the first half but came out of the locker room after half-time and scored 22 points in the third quarter.

Venice stuns Cardinal Ritter

ST. LOUIS — The Venice basketball Red Devils stunned highly-regarded Cardinal Ritter here Friday with an easy 63-36 victory.

Venice, which raised its record to 10-4 on the season, blew the game open in the middle two quarters after a sluggish first quarter by both teams. The Red Devils led only 9-8 going into the second quarter but outscored Cardinal Ritter 26-6 in that period and 19-5 in the third quarter the break the game open.

The Red Devils featured a balanced scoring attack against Cardinal Ritter. Only two players were in double figures in the scoring column. Harold Milton scored 21 points and William Watts scored 12 points. Keith Marchbanks scored eight points.

Only one Cardinal Ritter player was in double figures. Gerold Jones scored 10.

Better pupil fitness goal of group

By MICK STRANGE

According to a report published in Family Weekly magazine, one American child in five fails to pass a simple test measuring the minimum strength and skills necessary to master and enjoy ordinary games.

A community effort, involving both Madison and Venice groups, is forming to promote physical fitness among the students of the Madison Community Unit District 12, assisted, hopefully, by parents and other residents within the school district. This was a major point of discussion at Thursday's school board meeting.

Approximately 350 to 400 children live in the city of Venice, but attend Madison schools, due to the boundaries of the two school districts.

A pre-planning meeting for the February "Support Physical Education" campaign was held Friday at 9 a.m. in the Madison School Board office. Dolores Folkerts, curriculum director for the Madison schools, is coordinating the program.

Attending the meeting were Marion Guest, president of the Venice Silver Bells Senior Citizen Club; Mrs. Frances Baker, president of the Madison Senior

Students wasting 15 to 30 hours a week watching TV

Citizens Club; Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols; Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk; Sam Dymas, president of the school board; John L. Palchett, district superintendent; and Mrs. Folkerts.

Mrs. Folkerts said, "Studies have shown that children spend on the average of 15 to 30 hours a week watching television, compared with only about two hours in planned physical activity. The Madison Board of Education and faculty are concerned about our children and are expanding our emphasis upon physical fitness."

"We are trying to find ways to enlarge our scope of the physical education program by using creativity and some old-fashioned ingenuity in this age of limited school budgets. We hope the entire school community will get behind his emphasis."

At recent city council meetings, both mayors Echols and Sasyk declared February to be "Support Physical Education" month.

The senior citizens have promised to construct equipment from donated inexpensive "throw away" materials. Every school in the Madison district is holding in-depth workshops to provide classroom teachers with additional knowledge and "know how" to offer physical education five days each week.

According to Mrs. Folkerts, community organizations and parents are being asked to donate various materials, such as broom sticks, cloth, sandpaper, plastic leaf bags, 20-inch dowel rods and masking tape, to mention a few.

Letters about the program are going to several Madison and Venice organizations and to the parents of students within the district.

Donations of items or money may be made, either by groups or individuals, to the principal's office at the nearest school. Those with cash donations are being asked to contact Mrs. Folkerts. The two senior citizens' clubs are going to construct various items to be used in the classrooms.

Persons wishing more information on the new program are invited to contact their local principals or call Mrs. Folkerts at the Madison board office, 877-1712.

Pleads guilty in fatal crash

Danny Caughron, 23, of 2406 Iowa St., has pleaded guilty to reckless homicide and driving while intoxicated in the Oct. 18 death of Gregory Ballew, 20.

Caughron also pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of an accident, driving while under license suspension and disobeying traffic signals. Caughron is expected to be sentenced Feb. 19 by Madison County Judge A. Andreas Matosian.

Caughron was involved in the accident while his license had been suspended for the third time. Ballew was killed when his car was struck broadside by a car driven by Caughron on Garfield Avenue at Nameki Road. The fatal accident occurred after Caughron's automobile first struck the rear of another car stopped at a red light at Johnson Road.

Caughron's auto then left the scene, continued through the red light and north at a high rate of speed and then violated the flashing red light at Garfield Avenue as Ballew was driving across Nameki Road.

Ballew died approximately two hours later at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Six other persons were also injured in the two accidents.

Madison County Assistant State's Attorney Keith Jensen is expected to ask that Caughron receive the maximum six-year sentence on the charges.

Caughron was released on $10,000 bond, has been ordered not to drive and to be home by 9 p.m. each night.

ALLEGED RESISTING

Larry D. Warden, 29, of 2127 Lincoln Ave., Apt. 4, was charged with resisting a peace officer and a state charge of disorderly conduct following a disturbance in another apartment in his apartment building last week. He allegedly was intoxicated and yelling obscenities in the apartment for a former relative. When police arrived, he allegedly resisted them and was forced to arrest him.

NEW PRESIDENT of the Coordinated Youth Services board of directors, Ron Selph, left, accepts a gavel from retiring president Dave Morgan at the new board's first meeting Thursday afternoon.

Forms attached to traffic tickets

A form issued by Chief Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson, received from the Administrative Office of the Courts, has replaced data on the back of present traffic tickets in this region.

A new fine and bail schedule went into effect in Illinois Jan. 15.

Until new tickets are printed, the forms will be given out along with the traffic law violation tickets by area police, deputies and troopers.

Judge Ferguson said each officer is to "notify the defendant that the information on this slip of paper replaces the language which is actually on the ticket."

"Since the difference in the amount of money is substantial—and since their rights are much different under the new supreme Court rules—it is imperative that a copy of this new language be given to each defendant at the time of the citation," the judge told each police agency.

The amended rules reflect legislative action increasing the fine from $35 to $50 the amount of cash bail that must be deposited with peace officers by violators of minor traffic and conservation offenses.

The rules also designate those minor violations which can be satisfied by the violator without a court appearance, with a written plea of guilty and payment to the court clerk of a prescribed amount of fine and costs. The new rules require payment in the amount of $50 for fine, penalties and costs.

For traveling more than 20 but less than 30 miles per hour over the speed limit, the new cash bail figure is $70.

Bail for driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs has been raised from $2,000 to $3,000.

The bail for fleeing to elude police, leaving a crash scene involving death or injury, reckless driving or drag racing has been increased from $1,000 to $2,000.

Regarding the appearance date on citations, the permissible time span has been increased from 10-45 days to 14-49 days after the date of arrest.

Another change is an increase from five to ten court days after arrest, as the earliest time within which an increased person may substitute cash bail for a deposited license or approved bond certificate.

However, both restrictions may be waived by the clerk.

Fire damages Hope Clinic

Granite City police detectives and fire investigators today are combing the debris from a fire at 8:42 p.m. Saturday in the Hope Clinic for Women, 200 Iowa St. Saturday.

The fire made regional news because of the clinic's reputation for providing legal abortions. It has been the scene of numerous demonstrations, including several arrests.

There were no dollar estimates on the amount of damage this morning, but Smolich said he hopes to fix a dollar amount after meeting with insurance representatives today. The building is owned by Dr. Hector Zevallos.

There were signs that the fire spread from a reception room wall through ceilings and furniture. The rest of the building sustained extensive smoke, heat and water damage, according to Smolich.

The fire started in the reception room area and spread primarily upwards. No immediate evidence of the cause of the blaze was found, according to investigators. Assistant Fire Chief George Smolich commented, "I plan to get together today with (Detective Craig) Noon and see if we can come up with something more substantial."

$40,000 fire in Nameoki Township

Madison firemen responded to a fire at the P & L Lounge, 608 McCambridge Ave., Nameoki Township, at 2:48 a.m. today.

The building is owned by Dave McClelland and the lounge was operated by Lona Summer.

Madison firemen answered the call with 21 firemen and three fire cadets, in addition to two pumps, mini-pumps. Firemen were at the scene until 4:45 a.m. today.

According to a fire department spokesman, the estimated loss to the building is $20,000 and another estimated $20,000 loss to the contents.

A fire department spokesman said there was a question if there was insurance to cover the fire call. Cause of the fire is unknown and may have started from an electrical short.

The Madison County Arson team has been called to investigate the fire, an MFD spokesman said.

The Madison Fire Department will cease to answer fire calls in Nameoki Township at midnight next Sunday, Dec. 31, if arrangements are not made for payment of the fire call.

ARREST MAN, 28,

AT GC DWELLING
Ricky L. Parks, 23, of the 2000 block of Elm Ave., was arrested at 2:35 a.m. Friday and charged with criminal trespass to land after he allegedly forced his way into the home of Dorothy Parks, 2000 Elm Ave., and caused problems.

Parks, who had been advised by officers to leave the dwelling about an hour earlier, was bleeding from a cut to his head. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment and was returned to police headquarters at 3:25 a.m. Friday.

Cold snap ruined state peach crop

Illinois peach growers who this month suffered the probable loss of the entire 1982 crop when an arctic blast of air nipped sensitive buds, are waiting now to see if the damage will be even more extensive.

A fruit specialist at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale says the intense cold—which officially dipped to 18 degrees below zero at the southern tip of the state—may have damaged the trees themselves.

That could mean fewer peaches for the next several years, according to James Mowry, professor emeritus in the SIUC School of Agriculture's department of plant and soil science.

"Damage to the peach tree makes it susceptible to fungal infections and disease and it often results in a weakened branch or tree that produces less in the years ahead," Mowry said.

"Usually, this sort of damage won't show up until the spring, when regrowth starts and the grower is pruning his trees. Often, the only remedy is to prune the damaged part of the tree."

"The official low temperature often is higher than that measured out in the orchards," Mowry said. "In 1977, when winter temperatures were comparable to these, I measured a temperature of 30 degrees below zero in the SIUC vineyard."

"That kind of temperature so soon after the mild weather we had in December increases the possibility of damage to the peach trees themselves. Some growers may find even large limbs or an occasional susceptible tree severely damaged by the cold," he concluded.

AUTO DAMAGES LAWN

An auto drove through the yard at the home of John Smith, 45 Terrace Lane, last week, damaging the lawn and an evergreen tree. Tire tracks indicated the auto swerved across the road and into the lawn and then stayed on the sod for about 50 feet before returning to the roadway and leaving the scene.

BAC increases tuition by $2 per credit hour

In what trustees described as a "hard decision," the Belleville Area College Board of Trustees has approved a $2 tuition increase for this fall.

The increase from $17 per credit hour to $19 was spurred by warnings from state officials that money for community colleges will be tight during the next fiscal year, which begins July 1.

"There's no doubt our state picture is bleak," Trustee Robert Dintelmann of Belleville said. "The Illinois Community College Trustees' Association is telling us it is and so is everybody else."

BAC President Dr. Bruce Wiosore said the college faces receiving only a three-percent increase in state funding during fiscal 1983. That means more belt-tightening for the college, which already has implemented a number of money-saving policies in the past year.

Student Trustee Tammy Jones of Belleville said her vote in favor of the increase came after considerable thought. "I could see both sides of it," she began. "I talked to students and, of course, they don't want their tuition raised. But I don't see any other way the college can continue to meet its responsibility to the community."

Students must realize that they are the consumer and, therefore, must pick up their slack in the budget, Miss Jones added. "It will be a little tougher for some students," she said. "I believe if you want an education badly enough, you're willing to pay the price. When my kids grow up and become college age, they should have a place to go to get an education."

Trustee Betty Jenner of Mascoutah agreed that the $2 increase is necessary. "The state is recommending $18 per credit hour and we're only going to be $1 above that," Mrs. Jenner said. While the tuition increase may put BAC slightly above the state average, the college's tax rate is $3.85 less than the state average, Dr. Wiosore added.

The increase represents an 11.8 percent hike. That is in line with the percentage increases in tuition implemented annually since 1975, Wiosore said. Two-dollar hikes were made in 1977 and 1979 and $1 increases were made in the other years.

An estimated $350,000 will be collected from the increase, said James J. Hines, BAC vice-president for administrative services.

Dr. Wiosore said the need to raise tuition is a statewide situation. "The universities are increasing their tuition by 15 percent," he said. "Other community colleges in the state raised their tuitions by a median of more than $2 last year and are expected to do the same again in 1983."

Illinois community college tuition this year is as high as $24.50 at Black Hawk Community College in Moline.

Financial news for the college is not all gloomy. The board received the second quarterly budget report for fiscal 1982 and learned the college is not only living within its budget, but is $376,710 ahead of where it was predicted it would be at this time.

Of that amount, more than $200,000 is tax revenue not anticipated by county officials in the district when they made estimates earlier. Other dollars represent interest income.

"I think this happy news is an indication of increased enrollment, coupled with good handling of the money by everyone at the college," Dintelmann said.

In other business, the board approved the appointment of John West as department head for math and physical sciences.

'Casablanca' shown this week

"Casablanca" will be shown at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Jan. 28-30, as part of the University Center Board's winter film series.

The G-rated film will be presented in the Deja Vu Room located on the second floor of the University Center. Showtimes are: Thursday, 2:30 p.m.; Friday, 7 and 9:30 p.m.; and Saturday, 7 p.m.

The winner of three academy awards, "Casablanca" stars Humphrey Bogart and Ingrid Bergman. The film has been called one of the most famous romantic American movies made.

Admission is $1 for SIUE students with identification and $1.50 for the public. More information may be obtained by calling 1-692-2817.

Chamber lists most offensive regulations

What are the six most troublesome state regulatory areas facing Illinois small businesses? A majority of small business people responding to a statewide survey cited unemployment insurance regulations as the number one culprit, according to the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.

Other trouble spots cited most often were, in this order: workers' compensation assigned risk plan, sales and use tax, income tax, minimum wage and overtime and property tax. Small businesses surveyed considered these regulatory areas most costly—in terms of paperwork, staff time, compliance problems, legal and accounting costs.

Also listed as causing excessive problems were these regulations: deductions from wages; state equal opportunity rules for public contracts; uniform disposition of unclaimed property; requalification for state purchasing, services and construction; hazardous waste disposal; vehicle testing; professional licensing regulations; hazardous material transportation; water pollution permits and air permits.

The study was conducted by the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with other local chambers of commerce throughout the state, the Small Business Council of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, and the Small Business Office of the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs.

The survey results will help determine where to first begin implementation of Illinois' new regulatory flexibility law, which went into effect Jan. 1, 1982, according to ISCC Small Business Council Chairman Roger B. Pogue, president, Mavis-Pogue Lumber Company, Decatur.

"This landmark law allows state agencies to adapt rules to the special needs and problems of small business. Illinois is the first

Police alleged seeing the auto Musick was driving "fish-tailing" while making a turn from 34th Street onto Madison Avenue and stopped it. A computer check of the pistol indicated the possibility that the weapon had been reported stolen.

Success here in ending alcohol and drug addiction

By BILL WINTER

The role of Talbot Hall in resolving chemical dependency problems is being explained to Quad-City area businessmen and groups in meetings with Program Director Paul Smith and members of the staff.

In a discussion with industrial, construction and utility leaders last week at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Smith said a success rate of 60 to 70 percent is being projected and attained.

Participants spend 28 days in the program, which parallels to an extent the work of Alcoholics Anonymous. The long-term approach, which is receiving nationwide attention, differs from the aversion treatment used at some dependency centers.

Talbot Hall activities are designed to enable those with chronic dependency to end their link with alcohol, an addictive drug or any other mood-altering chemical.

The in-hospital recovery unit here is patterned after the Hazelden Foundation Rehabilitation Center in Minnesota. Registration is kept confidential, and precautions are taken to assure each patient's privacy. After-care also is provided, including attendance at weekly meetings at Talbot for three months.

Addiction is both physiological and psychological, Smith explains. "Physical dependence is combined with an addiction to the experience of changing the way one feels through use of drugs."

"Dependent individuals are most frequently addicted to alcohol, but many are dependent on amphetamines, mood-changing tranquilizers and combinations of alcohol and other drugs."

Although the Granite City program until now has emphasized the dependent person, comprehensive work with patients' families also will be started in February, last week's gathering was told.

Established in July 1981, Talbot Hall utilizes a wide variety of expertise, ranging from medical doctors to a recreation therapist. Also on the "team" are counselors, a psychologist, nurses and a chaplain.

As Smith sees it, "Dependence on alcohol or drugs is an illness, not a crime. Anyone can be a victim, regardless of age, sex, occupation or religious background."

"The disease is treatable.

It isn't necessary to lose one's job and good health, or for families to suffer.

"Treatment is not a punishment. The days when people were thrown into a 'drunk tank' to 'dry out' are over."

"No one has to have convulsions, pain or hallucinations or risk death to overcome dependence. Today, detoxification is safe, comfortable and humane, supervised by skilled personnel."

Spiritual help, self-recognition of the illness, motivation of the patient, and mutual support by fellow patients are among the elements of the program.

An individualized treatment plan is developed for each patient. In addition to team members working with patients individually, "reality therapy" is achieved through group counseling.

Smith summarizes, "Chemical dependency is a serious illness affecting one's ability to control his or her life."

"Allowed to progress, it can cause impaired family relationships, inability to function adequately at work, physical deterioration and death. When there is denial of the problem and an absence of treatment, the likelihood of recovery is only 10 percent."

"The purpose of treatment is to help the patient regain the ability to manage his or her life."

"Our goal is complete abstinence from mood-altering drugs, while learning to develop patterns of activity that will produce pleasant feelings without the use of drugs."

Talbot treatment is covered either fully or partly by most health insurance plans, including Medicare.

FACES FIVE CHARGES

Dennis B. Aurand, 27, Glen Carbon, was charged with driving while intoxicated, failure to yield the right-of-way and disobeying traffic control devices on 27th Street at Grand Avenue, State Street and Madison Avenue following an accident last week. He allegedly turned his car left in front of an oncoming car at 29th Street and Madison Avenue, forcing the other driver to swerve off the roadway. Aurand then stopped briefly, but fled from the scene south on Madison Avenue, violating a red traffic light and two stop signs as he fled, the other motorist alleged. He was arrested, booked and released on $202 cash bond.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Daniels

Daniels-Rankin

Miss Denise Claire Rankin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. Duane Rankin, 511 Jefferson Ave., Venice, and Michael Joseph Daniels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Daniels, 531 Jefferson Ave., Venice, were united in marriage on Jan. 24 at Concordia Lutheran Church.

Fifty blooming poinsettias were arranged around the altar and bouquets of red carnations, white tinias, holly leaves and balsam evergreens adorned the altar for the double ring ceremony performed at 6:30 in the evening by the Rev. Arvin Twietmeyer.

Burning tapers in hurricane lamps illuminated the stained glass windows and a large Canada balsam tree, trimmed with white lights and tinsel, with a canopy of white miniature lights joined to a star completed the nuptial decor. Wedding music was provided by Lynn Mueller, organist, Daniel Hunnicutt, vocalist, and Peter Shelton, trumpeter.

Selections included, "The Wedding Song," "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Trumpet Voluntary," "O, Come All Ye Faithful," "O, Father All Creating," "If You But Trust in God to Guide You," "Also, Sabbath Prayer," "Joy to the World," "The Hallelujah Chorus," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Rankin wore a formal white A-line chiffon "knit over taffeta gown. The fitted bodice featuring a sweetheart neckline and tapered sleeves were accented with Venice lace.

Lace motifs were repeated on the semi full skirt and chapel train.

A lace camelot headpiece secured her veil. Laidal illusion and she held a bouquet of white roses, red forget-me-nots, holly and baby's breath. Miss Pamela Rankin, a sister of the bride, served as maid of honor with bridesmaids, Mrs. Debra Rankin, the bride's sister-in-law, Mary Beth McGarrahan, Linda Paterson and Myra Willmors.

They appeared in identical red qiana crepe dresses designed with ruffled bodices, ivory lace mandarin collars and softly flowing skirts. Each attendant carried a basket of white roses, red forget-me-nots, holly and baby's breath centered with candles.

Amy McIntosh and Elizabeth Dunn and Jason McIntosh, nieces and nephews of the groom, served as flower girls and ringbearer.

The flower girls were dressed in red qiana frocks enhanced with an ivory lace trim and full skirts. Each carried a basket of red roses and baby's breath.

The groom chose his brother, Daniel Daniels, as best man. Ken Rankin, a brother of the bride, Jim Simmons, Randall Willmors and Thomas McIntosh, were groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Douglas Rankin and Terry Daniels, brothers of the bride and groom.

A buffet dinner was served in the church hall to members of the wedding party and their families following the rehearsal.

Guests were received by the newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Daniels at Englebert Hall in Madison.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rankin chose a forest green qiana gown designed with a V-neckline, long sleeves and floor length skirt. The groom's mother appeared in an apricot qiana sleeveless dress complemented with a floral print chignon long sleeved jacket.

Both young people graduated from Venice High School. The bride also graduated from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and is a substitute teacher for the Venice and Granite City School Districts.

The groom served three years in the U.S. Army and is attending Belleville Area College where he is enrolled in electronics. He will graduate in July.

They are residing in Venice following a wedding trip to Virginia Beach, Va.

Women's Division visits Old China

Oriental music, Chinese murals, and a menu of authentic Mandarin-Peking Hu-Nan and Szechwan style cooking created the atmosphere for a dinner meeting of the Women's Division of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

The group of 145 members and guests met at the Old China Restaurant, located in the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center.

Mrs. Shirley Fountain, president, welcomed the members and guests and conducted a business session.

A spring dance entitled, St. Patrick's Celebration, will be held on March 13 at the Lion's Home in Madison, it was announced by Mrs. Shirley Adams, chairman of the project.

Wayne Scannell's "The Casuals" will provide dance music and an Irish buffet and cash bar will be available. Dinner tickets will cost $10 per person, Mrs. Adams added. Proceeds will be used by the organization for its Community Beautification program and the children's Christmas party, the chairman noted.

Reservations may be made with Mary Matosian at 877-1869 or 877-5921. Mrs. Kim Wood, one of the co-owners of Old China and Old Peking Restaurant in Collinsville, was the featured program speaker. She spoke about Chinese customs and family traditions, and concluded her presentation by singing two Chinese ballads while accompanying herself on the zither.

The next dinner meeting will be on Feb. 18 at Ravanel's Restaurant, the president reported.

DAR enrolls Mrs. Koenig

The Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the DAR held its January meeting at the Burn's Cafeteria with the regent, Mrs. Barbara Williams presiding.

Mrs. Margaret Belt led the opening ceremony after which Mrs. Emma Schoen read the President General's message. Mrs. Florence Simpson then discussed various timely items concerning national defense.

Mrs. Linda Koenig was formally accepted as a new member with a ceremony led by Mrs. Schoen and Mrs. Belt.

The minutes of the December meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Sandra Wilkison followed by the treasurer's report given by Miss Ella Ray Smith. Correspondence from the state regent, Mrs. Albert Triebel, was read by Mrs. Wilkison.

A safety tip concerning shaky ladders was given to the group by Mrs. Simpson.

Mrs. Williams discussed the state conference in Chicago, March 31 through April 3.

She also reminded the members present that February's Good Citizen's Tea would be held on Sunday rather than Saturday, the usual meeting day at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Following the business meeting, a panel of seven members led an informative program about George Washington. A brief summary of Washington's family history was given, as were various quotations by Abraham Lincoln and John Kennedy concerning the character and importance of our first president.

Circle plans active year

Mrs. Annaliese Gyarmati, ways and means chairman, for Our Lady of Fatima Circle 35, Daughters of Isabella, announced an active year of projects and programs at the January meeting of the organization.

The group met at the Knights of Columbus Hall, and after the chairman's presentation she urged each one to attend every month to finalize plans for the forthcoming project. Regent Florence Portell presided at the session and welcomed Dorothy Hoedebeck, who has been convalescing since August when she was injured in an auto accident. Mrs. Portell also read notes of appreciation received from various charities for the donations sent on behalf of the circle. During the social hour a luncheon was served by Mrs. Cell Mance and the hostess committee.

Offsetting each multiplier increase with a rate cut would limit agencies' tax income—but not their costs

"Big Jim" Thompson, the Illinois governor running hard for a third term, diminished his stature a bit last week with the assessment multiplier portion of his 1982 "state of the state" message to legislators. He suggested dividing tax rate ceilings by whatever figure is used to multiply each county's valuation.

Thompson's rhetoric was sufficiently lofty and flowery that his "reform" proposal may have impressed many property owners, but those same property owners would be ill served if the General Assembly actually implemented the governor's recommendation.

Madison County newspapers told of the proposal under such headlines as "Thompson tax plan to have little effect here" and "Thompson plan may not affect Madison County." We disagree.

The news accounts concluded there would be almost no impact on this county because of Madison County's consistent record of qualifying for a "one" multiplier (no multiplier).

(Parenthetically, it should be noted that Madison County does have a good record in this regard. In 1981, Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer and his appointee, Supervisor of Assessments James Barton. Neither has escaped "heat" from taxpayers, but both have withstood that heat and "stayed in the kitchen," as President Truman once described what a public official must do when he thinks he is right and some of the public feels differently.)

(The county-level assessment supervisor post was made appointive in the first place in the hope that it might be somewhat shielded from political pressure. Unfortunately, in a lot of counties it has been politicized and valuations are at a relatively low level.)

(Illinois then steps in with a hefty countywide multiplier, whereupon county officials and some township officials serving as "the state's" tax rate forcing property owners to pay bigger sums.)

How would the multiplier harm Madison County? Here are some of the ramifications. If the rate ceiling had to decrease as the assessment multiplier rose, a "plateau" effect would result, keeping total property tax revenue relatively constant.

Inflation and inflationary expectations tend to cause wages and other costs to rise. If property values no longer could increase without rates dropping, the result would be nothing to cushion the cost upward. Services would have to be chopped painfully, or debt would rise alarmingly, or both.

In some ways this phenomenon could be compared with the situation faced by Illinois health and medical institutions when efforts were made in the late 1970's to "put a cap" on their income, while at the same time nobody was protecting them from cost hikes and pay increases.

2. The Highland area, which overlaps a county boundary line. The two areas' relative wealth and local financial support could become badly distorted and confused as Madison County and the neighboring county moved in opposite directions with their assessment policies and rate limits.

3. Sixteen counties, including Madison County, avoid state multipliers by ordering township multipliers that offset township assessors' mistakes, misjudgments or cussedness. In 16 Illinois counties regularly underassess.

To the extent that they receive larger-than-1 multipliers, these counties and their governmental units will not see their maximum legal rates decrease.

Overall property tax income could drop in some cases, and in all 86 the revenue "plateau" syndrome would wreak its damage on agencies' efforts to finance basic services.

Since state financial aid to schools is closely tied to the extent of local tax effort and ability, it could become more and more difficult to assure uniformity and fair play between various parts of the state, as levy rate comparisons became more and more complex, incomprehensible and unmanageable.

4. The governor used the word "simple" in explaining the 122 counties' complexity is so great that it is almost impossible to visualize.

Cities by a clear and increasing margin are the majority financial supporter of the multiplier system.

With a 1.9839 multiplier tentatively set for St. Clair County, the district's rate under the proposed law would drop sharply in St. Clair County.

Officials estimate that the Madison County portion then might find itself paying two-thirds, three-fourths or even more of the cost of operating the district, as one county "plateaued" and the other kept pace with inflation.

6. Massive variations between counties are the rule, not the exception.

Along with Madison County's 1 and St. Clair's 1.9839, consider Jersey County's 1.68, Calhoun County's 1.3, Macoupin County's 1.38 and Greene County's 0.96.

A negative multiplier, on which rates could not rise beyond their present legal maximums despite Thompson's "simple" division and multiplication formula.)

What the governor said to the second session of the 82nd General Assembly was this:

"Last year, I signed the Truth in Taxation Act which gives people greater knowledge and a greater voice in determining local property tax issues. The time has come for further reform of our property tax system."

"For years, some local assessment officials have underassessed property in their counties, knowing that the state would be obligated under our law to review assessments and issue a multiplier to equalize assessments for the purpose of equity in taxing districts which overlap county lines."

"But for taxing districts overlapping between counties, the state could simply get out of the multiplier business and let local government benefit or suffer from the action or inaction of local officials. Since this law was enacted, I proposed this change at tax time by making the multiplier a divider as well."

"While the multiplier would still be used to equalize assessments, it would also be used to divide the tax rate."

"The result would be that, if local assessing officials fail to do their job, local property taxes would decrease, not artificially increase as they do now."

"This simple change would put local taxes in local hands, something local government officials have long advocated. Hopefully, their enthusiasm for this principle will not suddenly wane."

This statement is somewhat perplexing because tax and spending ceilings would continue. But it is clear that he wants the state to take blame to dodge the blame for local tax rises.

The state, of course, should not have to accept such blame, to the extent that local-level counties are merely trying to "pull the wool over the eyes" of their constituents by blaming someone in a distant city.

Perhaps human nature may demand a scapegoat, and Gov. Thompson doesn't want to be one. With popular Adlai Stevenson likely to be nominated to oppose him for governor this year, the chief executive is making it his job to become the property owners' hero.

But calling something "reform" does not make it a genuine improvement. Madison County's rate is making a big pitch to become the property owners' hero.

Peer pressure can be an aid

Teen peer pressure is strong. Why are teens so vulnerable to peer pressure and why is it so strong in today's world? The answer lies in ourselves.

We give in to others. We must learn that we are people capable of being the best. In other words, we must learn our self-esteem.

Each person must take steps to build confidence. You go through so many tests the teen years that it will help you recognize just how strong your esteem as self-value is.

In facing peer pressure, one must always remember each of us were made special and unique and things that everyone else feels are OK may not be OK for you. In the end, the only person that you must face up to is yourself.

There are constructive ways to face loneliness without acting against our sense of personal integrity? Belonging to groups and making individual relationships help us handle loneliness.

One is constantly with temptation, whether it involves drugs, sex or alcohol. Some friends keep you out of trouble; others force you into it. It is vital to be selective in choosing companions.

An alternative to peer pressure is belonging to "Kids at Care." These youths develop a helping relationship with younger people who need friends and a support to Christian teenagers, giving them a chance to practice their values and build self-esteem.

For self-esteem is as necessary to the spirit as food is to the body.

School loan could total $3 million

Borrowing by the Granite City school district to meet its education fund costs between Feb. 1 and the end of the 1981-82 fiscal year June 30 could reach $3 million.

Property tax anticipation warrants of up to that amount were authorized last week by the Board of Education.

The interest rate paid by the district will not exceed nine per cent or 70 percent of the current annual prime rate. The tax warrants will be obtained from the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

Borrowing is limited by law to no more than 85 percent of the district's yearly tax levy.

A detailed calendar of borrowing needs was presented to the board by Norman S. Owca, the district's director of finance.

Owca reported that "currently all outstanding tax anticipation warrants are paid in the building and education funds."

"Since we have received 93.6 percent of our total expected 1980 real estate tax collections, the remainder which we should receive is $468,516."

"This total represents distribution of $82,991 to the education fund, $69,586 to the building fund, $22,103 to the municipal retirement fund, $16,662 to the transportation fund and $7,172 to working cash."

"The predictability of this year's income is not assured because of unknown factors such as tax protests, certificates of error that may be issued and whether all taxes are paid."

"Prior to the end of the 1981 calendar year, we experienced a cash flow problem because of late 1980 tax collections."

"Beginning in February 1982, we are going to experience a cash flow problem partially because of timing and amounts we receive in state aid and anticipated corporate personal property replacement tax checks, and the various dates on which our payroll is distributed."

"Monthly calendars have been prepared on estimated expenditures and dates of needed 1981 tax warrants for the remainder of the 1981-82 school year. A meeting was held with the bank Jan. 11 and it was assured it could and would arrange to meet our needs for the rest of the school year. These needs were prepared for the maximum."

Delays in state payments harms druggists

Pharmacists serving Illinois Public Aid recipients in the Madison-St. Clair counties area have been hard hit by a serious slowdown in Medicaid payments by the state of Illinois over the last 60 to 90 days.

The state, which is obligated by contract to pay pharmacists providers within 30 days of billing, has seriously breached the contract according to the Madison-St. Clair Professional Pharmacists Assn. Payments to pharmacies are now averaging more than 50 days with some stores not having received a check for more than two months.

Pharmacists are particularly hard hit by the Medicaid payment delay in the Madison-St. Clair counties area because 75 percent of pharmacy billings represent cost of product, which must be paid by pharmacists to their suppliers. Many pharmacies are being pushed towards insolvency as they are forced to pay their suppliers in two to four weeks and must wait much longer for state payment.

The Department of Public Aid has stated that they hope to be in compliance with the 30-day payment cycle by the end of February.

It is quite possible that many pharmacists will be cut off by their suppliers before then if the state of Illinois does not pay its bills in a timely fashion. The results of such a cutoff would be to deny essential pharmacy services to the recipients and, thereby, endanger their health care.

The pharmacists of the Madison-St. Clair counties area have been providing services for at least the last three months, but cannot continue much longer. The state must pay the medical providers who are supplying services to the Medicaid recipients.

Edrington-Staicoff

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Edrington

Former resident is guest speaker

A former Granite City resident, the Rev. Russell F. Harrison addressed the congregation and guests of Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, Sunday afternoon at a Home Mission Outreach Program of the National Disciples of Christ Christian Church.

A ham and bean dinner was served at 6 p.m. followed by the service. Rev. Harrison serves on the international staff of the Division of Homeland Ministries, Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) as treasurer of the division. He also serves as assistant to the DHM president for financial services and interpretation in the division offices in Indianapolis, Ind.

The former resident graduated from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, with a B.A. degree in education in 1942, and he earned the B.D. degree from Lexington Theological Seminary in Kentucky. He was ordained to the ministry at Central Christian Church in Lexington, Ky., in 1945. Rev. Harrison became active with the youth of the church and was named director of the total youth program. Between 1947 and 1954 he wrote three books in the field of youth work and numerous articles for national magazines and publications.

In 1976 he wrote a book for elders at the communion table, "Brief Prayers for Bread and Cup," which according to Christian Board of Publication is a Bethany Press book best seller. One of the hymns which he has written entitled "Our Father, Thou Almighty God" is a prayer and an evangelistic hymn and is in the Christian Worship, a hymnal.

In 1955 Rev. Harrison resigned his post with the Disciples to become the associate general secretary of the World Council of Christian Education in charge of the headquarters office in New York City.

Rev. R. F. Harrison

His geographical responsibility included the western hemisphere, all of Asia except India and Pakistan, the Arab countries of the Middle East, and countries of Africa that he served largely by American mission boards.

The former resident has traveled around the world and went to serve as one of the American Church representatives at the Third World Conference of Christian Youth in India. He assisted in the planning and attended the 14th World Convention of Christian Education in Tokyo, Japan, in 1958. He has been to Europe three times, Latin America five times and in 1962 served as a consultant in a World Education Institute in Belfast, Ireland.

Rev. Harrison and his wife, Nancy, are the parents of three daughters, Linda, Margaret and Heather and a son Jim. Mrs. Harrison formerly served as a research chemist and is now a patent attorney in the patent division of Eli Lilly & Company, pharmaceutical firm, in Indianapolis.

• Did you know? Fresh, new-fallen snow is a wonderful leavening agent. While no one really knows why, it works great as the liquid in your favorite griddle-cake batter.

Burning tapers in tall candelabra, illuminated the Sanctuary of the First United Presbyterian Church, and arrangements of burgundy and white mums decorated the altar for the wedding of Stephanie Rene' Walden Staicoff and Gary L. Edrington on Nov. 7.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 5 o'clock in the evening was the Rev. David Bruce Maxton. Organist Isabell Schmidt accompanied Rogers Mefford as she sang, "One Hand One Heart." Lords Prayer, and "Be Thow With Them."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walden, 2225 Delmar Ave. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Milton Edrington, 4113 Old Alton Road.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a full length ivory antique lace gown with long lace sleeves set into a fitted bodice, featuring a high neckline and a lace ruffle which created a Victorian design.

She wore a fingertip veil accented with ivory satin bows and she held a cascade bouquet of burgundy and ivory roses with baby's breath and ivory lace ribbon.

Miss Melissa Walden, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, and Miss Deborah Walden, another sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid. They were attired in full length mauve gowns with sweetheart necklines, shirred bodices and cap sleeves.

Each attendant carried a nosegay of burgundy roses, burgundy silk ribbons and ivory baby's breath.

The groom chose Gary Keel of Hillsboro, Mo., as best man, and David Edrington his brother as groomsman.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Walden selected a burgundy chiffon handkerchief length gown. The groom's Mother chose a mauve afternoon dress with a pleated skirt. Both mothers wore corsages of ivory roses and baby's breath.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the parents of the groom at Ravanelli's Restaurant.

Guest were received at a reception, following the wedding, at the Polish Hall, in Madison, where a dinner was served to 175 friends and family members.

The bride is employed at General Freight Service, in Granite City, and the groom works in the casting and fabrication section of Christy Fibrebrick, St. Louis.

Amvets Auxiliary recruits 3 members

Marie Kelly, Betty Kesterman and Sue Reeves were welcomed as new members of Madison Amvets Auxiliary Post 204 at a meeting at the post home, 1242 Iowa St., last week.

Mae Jean Adams, president, was in charge and the pledge of allegiance and Amvets Prayer were led by Evadene Graville, acting chaplain.

Harry Mabius, Post 204 service officer, addressed the group, asking auxiliary members to sponsor barbeque sales to the public in conjunction with a proposed visit by the Amvets service van.

Free information is provided to all interested veterans and their families by the personnel manning the van, which is tentatively scheduled to be in Madison during May, Mabius said.

The auxiliary unit was commended in the Amvets Monthly Bulletin, which cited the Madison members for their contributions and service projects.

An award also was presented the Post 204 Auxiliary from the John Tracy Clinic for sponsoring two children in 1981, it was noted.

Kim Hartman, Americanism chairman, announced plans to donate a flag to Boy Scouts in Madison. She also reported a poster and essay contest currently is underway for students, with March 26 set as the deadline for entries.

Several members expressed interest in attending an orientation session to be conducted by the USO in its new facility at St. Louis International Airport. Volunteers, who would work four-hour shifts, are being sought to assist at the site.

Planning was initiated for a visit to the Madison post by the Amvets national commander and national auxiliary president, scheduled April 23, when a dinner will take place.

A luncheon and dinner also are planned April 24 in Mount Vernon, with Illinois State Commander Don Russell to be honored. Tickets, costing $15 each, are available.

The Amvets annual bowling tournament will be held in Mount Vernon this spring, it was reported.

In addition to those mentioned, also at the meeting were Laurie Griffiths, treasurer, Audrey Mabius, public relations officer, Evadene Graville, child welfare, Nelle Holshouser, representative, Pat Hartman, membership chairman, and Donna Wheeler, Karen Martin, Judy Dik, Hazel Modrusic, Gladys Reeves, Peggy Avedesian and Carolyn Gerlach.

Jeffery Herring and Diana Gross

Herring-Gross

Mrs. Louis A. Gross, of Jefferson, Iowa, is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Army Specialist Five Diana Rene Gross and Army Sergeant Jeffery E. Herring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Herring, 2501 E. 25th St.

The bride-elect graduated in 1976 from Jefferson Community High School and is presently serving with the U.S. Army at Arlington Hall Station, Arlington, Va., as a computer programmer. Her fiancé is a supply sergeant stationed at Fort Huachuca, Ariz., and is a 1976 graduate of Granite City High School South.

Plans are being completed for a May 14 wedding to be solemnized at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Jefferson, Iowa.

Happy Group holds potluck

Forty-seven members of the Happy Group seniors met Thursday afternoon for their first potluck dinner of the year at the Granite City Township Center.

Mrs. Elizabeth McCoy, vice president, led the group in reciting the Lord's Prayer and welcomed two new members, Charlotte Smith and Hazel Smith.

Among the winners of a special contest were Edgar Faddock, Alice Cross, Vi Scrivner, Theresa Barylske, Marie Staneck and Marguerite Collier.

It was announced that Mrs. Juanita Crawley, Happy Group president, was hospitalized.

The afternoon was spent playing pinocchio and other games.

Service couple parents of son

Staff Sergeant and Mrs. Daniel Hancock of Whiteman Air Force Base, Knob Noster, Mo., formerly of Granite City, became the parents of their third child, a son, born Jan. 16 at a hospital near the base.

The infant has been named Daniel Michael. He weighed eight pounds, nine ounces. The couple's older children are Heather, who celebrated her sixth birthday on Jan. 16, and Corie, 2 years.

The mother is the former June Goodwin, daughter of Mrs. Carol Goodwin of Missouri.

The paternal grandparents are Mrs. Carol Hancock of Madison and Earl Hancock Jr. of St. Louis.

PTA hears Shriners

Doug Pascoe introduced Vasil Efthimoff, Don Nichols and Mike Petrosian, members of the Ainaid Shrine who presented the program, Monday night, at a meeting of Johnson School PTA.

The guests showed two films entitled, "Help A Shriners Help A Child" and "For Many Reasons." They also explained the first Shriners' Hospital was founded in 1922 and now they sponsor 21 hospitals located in various areas of the United States, Canada and Mexico.

There are 18 orthopedic hospitals and three burn centers located in Boston, Cincinnati and Galveston, where children are accepted regardless of race or creed or if they are rich or poor, the guests reported.

The age group for acceptance is from birth to 18 years and besides the initial care for the patients, the hospitals provide schooling, recreation, entertainment, therapy and a lot of loving care, the speakers noted.

Members of Junior Girl Scout troop 419, led by Mrs. Jackie Sanderling, presented the opening flag ceremony. Those participating were Keri Smith, Sandy Stover, Stacey Mertz, Tammy Ballew, Cathy Sanderling, Jill Robinson, Shelley Van Deusen, Charlotte Weible and Amy Wigger.

Mr. Slim Good Body will be the guest at an assembly planned for March 18. He has appeared on television and will speak on health and safety, it was announced by Richard Brinkhoff, principal.

In other business it was noted the PTA will host a potluck dinner on Feb. 8, at 6:30 p.m. which will mark the 10th birthday of R. D. Johnson School and also is the 85th birthday of the Parent-Teacher Association. All past PTA officers will be invited to attend.

The fourth grade class of Loretta Woolbright won the attendance banner and Mrs. Peggy Stover received the evening award.

A nominating committee of five was selected to submit a slate of officers for election. Those named to the committee were Becky Seay, Richard Brinkhoff, Peggy Stover, Katie Wilson and Linda Wozniak.

Refreshments were served during the social hour by the second grade room mothers.

Halbert joins board of American Heritage

"The year 1981 presented many economic challenges to our nation, our local community and our bank. However, American Heritage was able to meet its challenges and realize a 12.97 percent increase in assets for the year. As a result, we are increasing the stockholder dividend which will now total $8000," stated Robert H. Karandjeff, executive vice-president of the American Heritage Bank in opening remarks at the bank's annual stockholder meeting. Announcement also was made that the bank's board of directors would be increased from the current eight to nine members.

Paul G. Halbert of Granite City is the new director. He is general manager of both the Press-Record and the Cultivator Herald.

Retirement Account has generated a tremendous amount of interest. With the new legislation making it possible for people in all walks of life to have an IRA, whether or not they have an existing pension plan, we find many customers taking advantage of this exceptional opportunity," he said.

"We also were very pleased to discover the popularity of our walk-up window, which we open during heavy traffic periods. This is an age of convenience and, of course, we want to make banking as convenient as possible."

Karandjeff went on to say, "For American Heritage Bank has been a successful year. However, we must not lose sight of all the people who made it possible. Of course, I mean our directors and officers, but even more so, our employees, whose efficiency and conscientious effort made us reach our goals. And, most important, our reason for existence, our customers, whose loyalty and support have, through the years, helped us grow and move ahead."

Judges Horace L. Calvo and Charles W. Chapman. Tuesday's program concerns a suit brought in the circuit court, seeking money damages, arising out of an accident.

Judges Calvo and Chapman presently are assigned to the Civil Division. They will discuss the various aspects of a typical case, examining both the trial and the pre-trial preparation. The show is hosted by Attorney John Hopkins.

No stock insurance for Brimberry or 26 others

Fifteen directors and officers of the defunct Stix & Co. Inc. stock brokerage who owned shares of the firm are unprotected by insurance and will lose millions of dollars on their investments. Also lacking insurance protection are 12 persons who were Stix customers and whose accounts exceeded the SIPC (U.S. Securities Investor Protection Corporation) limit. The losses of these dozen persons aggregate more than $1 million.

One of the 15 shareholders, Thomas R. Brimberry of Granite City, is expected to lose the value of his stock, estimated at $150,000, based on $30 per share for each of 5,000 shares.

Brimberry, a Stix senior vice-president and the key figure in the massive federal investigation that began in November, is accused by the Internal Revenue Service of helping to make unauthorized monetary withdrawals from investors' accounts.

The Press-Record said Jan. 18 that his vacation guests on at least one occasion carried up to $10,000 each out of the United States, leading to speculation that large sums of money were taken to and left in the Caribbean area.

A St. Louis newspaper has quoted Brimberry as saying he has joked about going to the Caribbean after the brokerage fraud case has been resolved, to buy a yacht and "lie in the sun." He denied that he has stashed away money in order to retrieve it later.

Harry O. Moline Jr., the court-appointed trustee overseeing the Stix liquidation, has increased from $7 million to $14 million the amount he estimates is likely to be paid out by the SIPC in reimbursements to clients.

He has completed transfer of the 4,100 Stix accounts to the Bache Halsey Stuart Shields Inc. Brokerage. Cash and securities in those accounts exceeded $40 million, he says, adding that more than 95 percent of the account holders have been satisfied; many lost about a month's interest on cash balances in their accounts.

About 120 persons lost their jobs, some later joining Bache. Many are unemployed and have wages or commissions due them.

Other losers include customers whose accounts exceeded $500,000, or $100,000 cash; nine persons known as subordinated lenders who loaned Stix a total of $985,000 at interest; and the brokers who held accounts at Stix and also were officers or directors.

Ten accounts cited in the "road map" Brimberry outlined for federal agents may have been short $36 million in securities, court records show. Missing securities were used as collateral for margin accounts.

The Securities Investor Protection Act of 1970 bans reimbursements to officers, directors and holders of five percent or more of a brokerage firm's stock, regardless of their income.

Of the 71,000 shares owned by 15 persons about 45,000 were owned by James J. Massa of Collinsville, 13,500 by Stix President Fred Arnstein and 5,000 by Brimberry, authorities say.

The liquidation trustee and his staff have used computers to determine which accounts have dividends due from about 550 companies whose securities had been purchased. Customer accounts were frozen from Nov. 5 to Dec. 11.

Along with the investigation by federal agencies and prosecutors, Trustee Moline will conduct an investigation as part of his duty to seek sources of money to pay creditors.

He also will try to establish whether any officers or directors committed fraud and may be subject to civil lawsuits against their personal assets.

U.S. attorneys in St. Louis and East St. Louis expect the overall inquiry to continue for many months but foresee some indictments this winter or spring, followed by others in the fall of 1982.

The Madison County state's attorney is considering scheduling a grand jury study of the case and related allegations.

No one has been charged by anyone, and all but Brimberry deny wrongdoing.

and Explorers Ed Paterson and Tom Voloski, thanking the speaker. Lt. Col. Schmidt is chairman of a similar law enforcement Explorer post, sponsored by his air security force at Scott Air Force Base, where he is chief of security. The speaker pointed out the similarities and differences between civilian and military police work.

CUTWORMS MAJOR PEST Cutworms were the major insect problem in corn in Madison County in 1981.

The University of Illinois Entomology Department conducts a survey each year to determine the major insect problems to field crops on a statewide basis. The survey revealed the following ranking of insect problems in Illinois in 1981: The Extension staff ranks cutworms as the major problem in corn, bean leaf beetle in corn, bean aphid, grasshoppers, white grubs and true armyworms.

The major nonagricultural or homeowner insect problem for 1981 was white grubs.

Every year, a number of landowners in Madison County sell standing timber. A landowner should do four things before selling timber.

The first step is to contact the district forester, John Hicks, for help in marking the timber to be sold and make up a timber report. Hicks' address is Box 149, Carlyle, Ill. 62231. This report can be sent to prospective timber buyers.

The second step is to obtain a copy of the Timber Prices Report published by the Illinois Cooperative Crop Reporting Service. Copies can be obtained from the Extension office or the District Forester's office. The price sheet can serve as a guide to timber values.

The third step is to obtain a list of timber buyers from the district forester or the Extension office. The timber report should be sent to several timber buyers for bids on the timber.

The fourth step is to have a written timber sales agreement with the buyer. This is very important to avoid problems later. A copy of a timber sales agreement can be obtained from the district forester.

$80.8 million approved for energy assistance

There was good news Friday for low-income Quad-City residents who are having difficulty meeting high fuel bills for heating their homes.

Governor James Thompson announced Friday that Illinois will immediately receive $80.8 million in low-income energy assistance from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

"This block grant represents 80 percent of the total funds approved to aid Illinois residents in paying their energy costs this winter," the governor said. "The remaining 20 percent, which will bring the total award for this year to $101 million, has not yet been released by Washington," he added.

The money will be used by the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) to fund the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program (IHEAP). Individuals may qualify for assistance ranging from $85 to $430, depending on household income, location and type of heating fuel.

The governor announced last month that the federal government had approved his request for the release of up to $9 million left over from the 1980-81 program to help eligible households during the current winter.

The $80.8 million announced Friday is funding for the current 1981-82 winter. "We are now in the final stages of identifying all delivery agencies for IHEAP in communities throughout the state," said Wayne Curtis, the agency's IHEAP manager, "and these agencies will begin taking applications later this month on a date to be announced."

Curtis said DCCA will publicize the names and locations of local IHEAP delivery agencies. DCCA also maintains a toll-free number, 1-800-252-8643, to handle IHEAP inquiries. IHEAP is particularly targeted toward the elderly and handicapped, Curtis said, but all individuals who think they may qualify for assistance will be urged to apply.

What Is Lumbago?

DR. W. B. HEIDKE

The term "lumbago" is commonly used for any form of low back pain. Actually, lumbago is a form of rheumatism which can be caused by improper lifting, fatigue or over-exertion. It results in severe contraction of one or more of the large muscles of the low back area.

The lumbar vertebrae are supported by muscles and ligaments. Any unbalance of muscle strength may cause a misalignment of these lumbar vertebrae with resultant pain.

Modern chiropractic treatment is aimed at eliminating the cause of pain rather than treating symptoms. Phone for an appointment, your first step toward relief from pain.

GIVE US TWO YEARS AND WE'LL GIVE YOU A CAREER.

To learn today the skills employers will demand tomorrow, spend two years in the Army.

For example, a 2-year hitch is just enough time to learn how to become an air traffic controller, broadcast specialist, telecommunications center operator, construction surveyor, dental technician, or one of many specialties in electronics or communications.

For ambitious people, civilian success can begin within the Army. For more information, call 800-423-3673. In California, 800-282-5864.
